Okay, so what does all this really mean and why should I care?

- Rural Kenton County is seeing few large-scale subdivision development.
- The subdivisions that are being built are mostly near existing cities like Independence.
- Construction is happening by individual homeowners along roads as large parcels are subdivided.